

---

HYPOTHESIS

---

By inspecting West African HIV-1, HIV-2 and SIV genomes, it is hypothesized that information will be produced that ties together the three viruses in a well-supported phylogenetic tree. From the tree, it is expected that we will find evidence for relationships found in different regions as well as discovering some of our own new theories regarding the evolution of the virus.